20 One-Liners to Remember

Quick-fire facts for last-minute revision.

1 CAIIB ABM (Advanced Bank Management) is Paper 1 of the CAIIB certification.

ABM is the first of the papers in the CAIIB exam conducted by IIBF.

2 CAIIB is conducted by the Indian Institute of Banking and Finance (IIBF).

IIBF is the body that designs, conducts and certifies the CAIIB examination.

3 CAIIB ABM has four modules: Economic Analysis, Business Mathematics & Finance, HRM in Banks, and Credit Management.

Each module covers a distinct skill area a banker needs for advanced roles.

4 The CAIIB ABM paper consists of 100 multiple-choice questions carrying 100 marks.

Each MCQ typically carries one mark, making the paper straightforward to score.

5 CAIIB ABM has a duration of 2 hours.

Candidates get two hours to attempt all 100 questions in the paper.

6 CAIIB ABM is conducted online in a self-proctored mode.

Candidates take the exam remotely under self-proctored online supervision.

7 CAIIB ABM has no negative marking for wrong answers.

Since wrong answers do not deduct marks, candidates should attempt every question.

8 CAIIB ABM can be attempted in either Hindi or English medium.

Candidates choose their preferred exam language at the time of registration.

9 CAIIB currently comprises five papers: ABM, BFM, ABFM, BRBL, and an elective subject.

Candidates clear four compulsory papers plus one elective to complete CAIIB.

10 Module A of CAIIB ABM, Economic Analysis, covers inflation, fiscal policy and monetary policy.

This module builds the macroeconomic thinking bankers apply to policy decisions.

11 Module B of CAIIB ABM, Business Mathematics and Finance, covers statistics and capital budgeting.

It is the most numerical module, testing formula-based problem solving.

12 Module C of CAIIB ABM, HRM in Banks, covers motivation theories and industrial relations.

This module focuses on managing and developing people within banks.

13 Module D of CAIIB ABM, Credit Management, covers ratio analysis and NPA classification.

It is the most practically relevant module for bankers handling credit.

14 RBI's key monetary policy tools include CRR, SLR, the Repo Rate and Open Market Operations.

These tools help RBI regulate money supply and control inflation in the economy.

15 CAIIB ABM Module C covers motivation theories by Maslow, Herzberg, McClelland and Vroom.

These theories explain what drives employee performance and satisfaction at work.

16 CAIIB ABM Module D covers NPA classification into substandard, doubtful and loss assets.

This classification determines the provisioning norms banks must follow for bad loans.

17 DSCR, or Debt Service Coverage Ratio, is used in term loan appraisal under CAIIB ABM Module D.

DSCR measures a borrower's ability to service debt obligations from its cash flow.

18 Capital budgeting techniques in CAIIB ABM Module B include NPV, IRR and payback period.

These techniques help evaluate whether a long-term investment project is worthwhile.

19 The SARFAESI Act, covering recovery of secured debts, is part of CAIIB ABM Module D.

SARFAESI lets banks recover dues by enforcing security interest without court intervention.

20 Candidates should always confirm CAIIB ABM exam dates, marks and syllabus on the latest official IIBF notification.

IIBF periodically revises exam details, so the official notification is the authoritative source.
