20 One-Liners to Remember

Quick-fire facts for last-minute revision.

- 1 Solving CCP previous year question papers helps candidates learn IIBF's real exam style and weightage.
Past papers reveal recurring themes and how concepts are converted into MCQs, unlike syllabus reading alone.
- 2 The CCP exam consists of 100 MCQs for a maximum of 100 marks.
This is the standard structure of the Certified Credit Professional online exam.
- 3 The widely referenced qualifying mark for the CCP exam is 50 out of 100.
Candidates should always verify the current qualifying marks on the latest official IIBF notification.
- 4 The duration of the CCP exam is 2 hours.
Candidates get 120 minutes to attempt the 100-question paper.
- 5 There is no negative marking in the CCP exam.
Since wrong answers are not penalised, candidates should attempt every question.

- 6 Credit appraisal, working capital management and project finance are heavyweight topics in the CCP syllabus.

These credit-focused areas carry significant weightage in the exam.

- 7 The CCP exam also includes questions on economy, finance and general reasoning beyond core credit topics.

Candidates should not neglect non-credit areas since they appear regularly in the paper.

- 8 Gross Investment equals Net Investment plus Depreciation.

This is the standard national-income accounting formula for gross investment.

- 9 A credit card allows the holder to make a purchase without immediate cash payment.

This distinguishes a credit card from a debit card, which draws directly from the holder's account.

- 10 Foreign Direct Investment typically brings capital, technology and management expertise, while Foreign Institutional Investment brings mainly capital.

This is a standard distinction between FDI and FII in economic literature.
