Question 4

A Cash Deposit Machine can re-dispense the cash it accepts to other customers.

FALSE

Only a Cash Recycler both accepts and re-dispenses notes; a CDM only accepts deposits.

Question 5

A Cash Recycler can both accept deposited notes and re-dispense them to other customers.

TRUE

This dual function is what distinguishes a cash recycler from a simple cash deposit machine.

Question 6

EMV chip cards use the same static code for every transaction, just like magnetic-stripe cards.

FALSE

EMV chip cards generate a unique dynamic code per transaction, making them harder to clone.
